

Welcome to Varberg

Varberg is a municipality situated on the Swedish west coast. The land area is 874,4 square kilometres and covers a coastline of 60 kilometres. Out of 60 400 inhabitants, about 29 000 live in the city of Varberg, while the rest of the population lives in the countryside or in one of the 16 villages.

You will be staying here for a limited period of time, and it is our sincere wish that you will feel both safe and welcome during your stay.

The City of Varberg

Walking areas

Hus 11, the building where you are staying, is next to an upper secondary school, and only a ten minute walk from the city center, where you will find a library, some nice park areas and playgrounds for children.

Wednesdays and Saturdays (early morning until noon) there is a farmers' market in the heart of the city, at the square just by the church. Many people like to stroll by the market place to enjoy the sight of fresh flowers, fruit and vegetables.

Varberg is well known for its beautiful beach promenade, which is 2,5 kilometres long and passes both rocks, sandy beaches and a few of Varberg's most famous buildings. One of these buildings is the fortress, which is Varberg's landmark. It dates from the 13th century and today it holds a museum.
